

2200B Hand Held Bag Closer

The model 2200B is a Union Special hand held bag closer. The model 2200B weighs approximately 11 pounds. For positive feed, the 2200B has both top and bottom feed. The machine comes equipped with a thread cutter. The model 2200B is normally used to sew light to medium weight products, such as fabrics, felts, and geotextile products.

If preferred, the model 2200B can be converted to a single thread machine. The 2200B is available in 110 or 220 volt, single phase. The machine is also available in a pneumatically driven version.

An optional thread stand is available (part number LTS1) that will allow the machine to use 1 pound cones of thread. The model 2200B is a quality, easy to operate machine for areas where a portable machine is required. For more information on the model 2200B bag closer contact:
